Highland, Indiana - Business and government leaders from Indiana and the region are being invited to a luncheon that focuses on the Midwest Regional Rail System on Friday, January 29, 2010. The event will be held at the Gary / Chicago International Airport, 6001 West Industrial Highway in Gary, Indiana, beginning at 11:30 a.m. (Central Standard Time).

The luncheon will feature Joseph A. Szabo, administrator of the Federal Railroad Administration, which is an office of the United States Department of Transportation. Szabo is expected to define the high-speed rail system proposed for the Midwestern United States, discuss the economic benefits of the system, and perhaps give some indication about the timing of the announcement of ARRA stimulus fund grants for intercity passenger rail.

The Indiana High Speed Rail Association, sponsors of this luncheon, is a membership-based advocacy group working for the funding and implementation of the Midwest Regional Rail System.

For reservations at $30.00 per person and additional information, call the sponsors of the event, the Indiana High Speed Rail Association at (219) 887-1351 before January 20, 2010
